Information on International Standards ISO 3864.

Safety colours and safety signs.

There is a need to standardise a system of giving safety information that relies as little as possible on the use of words to achieve understanding. Continued growth in international trade, travel and more recently in the extensive mobility of labour requires a common communications method for safety information.

This International Standard prescribes the use of specific colours, geometric shapes and graphical symbols for the design of safety signs to be used as an integral part of any accident prevention, emergency provisions and risk reduction programme.

Health and Safety Regulation on Safety Signs and Signals.

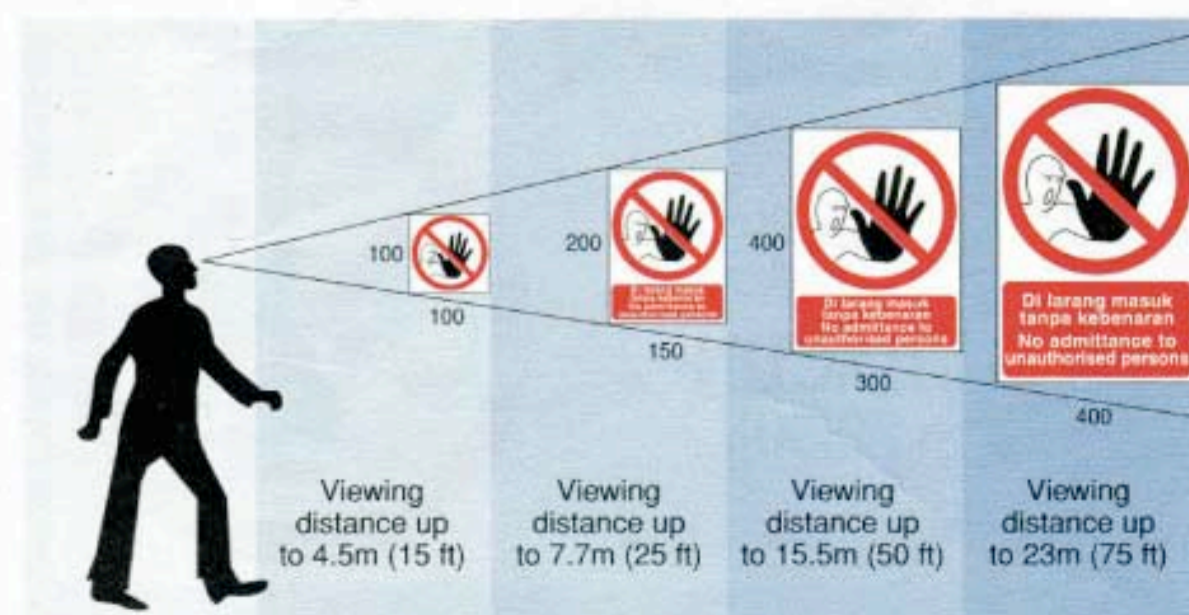

Permanent signboards must be used for signs relating to prohibitions, warnings and mandatory requirements and the location and identification of emergency escape routes and first aid facilities.

Signboards and/or a safety colour must be used to mark permanently the location and identification of fire-fighting equipment.

Signboards, including fire safety signs, are designed as follows:-
Safety Colour	Meaning or Purpose	Instruction & Information	Intrinsic Features	Example
RED	Prohibition/ Danger alarm.	Dangerous behaviour; stop; shutdown; emergency cut-out devices; evacuate.	Round shape; black pictogram on white background; red edging and diagonal line; red part to be at least 35% of the area of the sign.
YELLOW or AMBER	Warning.	Be careful; take precautions; examine.	Triangular shape; black pictogram on yellow background with black edging; yellow part to be at least 50% of the area of the sign.
BLUE	Mandatory.	Specific behaviour or action e.g. wear personal protective equipment.	Round shape; white pictogram on blue background; blue part to be at least 50% of the area of the sign.
GREEN	Emergency escape; first aid. No danger.	Door; exits; escape routes equipment and facilities. Return to normal.	Rectangular or square shape; white pictogram on green background; green part to be at least 50% of the area of the sign.

Photoluminescent Emergency Escape Signs

- These Photoluminescent material emits a clear and visible glow when there is power failure. It's requires no battery-power or any other triggering source for emission the glow. Upon exposure to light, natural or artificial, this photoluminescent material absorbs and stores light energy and then in the absence of light, this captivated light will released to give off a luminous glow over an extended period of time, generally several hours.

- A photoluminescent system is designed to provide continuous, visible direction to ensure orderly, expeditious, safe evacuation of a facility in the event of power failure or of smoke obscuring the exits or other disasters. Additionally, this system may assist the Fire Department personnel entering a facility to extinguish a fire and/or to assist in evacuation by providing a guidance pathway in areas of darkness.

- It can also be enormously useful in highlighting access to fire equipments or controls during periods of sudden darkness caused by fire or power failure or other emergency situations. In short, the purpose of Photoluminescent Escape/Guidance systems in the event of sudden darkness caused by the loss of power or smoke in building is to help minimise building occupants' disorientation and panic, by providing a Photoluminescent escape route marking system.
